NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS

By Jose de Capriles, Bout Committee Chairman

The largest national championships ever held in this country produced the strongest crop of young Olympic hopefuls since World War II. The pressure is definitely on our older veterans, who will have to reach the peak of physical condition or step aside.

California's great Maxine Mitchell was the only individual champion to retain a title, and her progress through the final was matched bout by bout until the end by a young new-comer, Louise Knab of Salle Santelli. Every other individual crown changed hands and had to be won on a fence-off which did not include the defending champion: Albert Axelrod over Dan Bukantz in foil (with Levis absent due to a bursitis); Abram Cohen over Frank Bavuso in epee, with Shurtz third; and Dick Dyer over Sol Gorlin in sabre, with Worth—suffering from a strained back—down to seventh. The results cannot be regarded as upsets: Every 1955 titleholder was a member of the Pan-American team and a high-ranking finalist in those championships.

Yet, among last year's finalists, only Mrs. Mitchell and young Judy Goodrich made the women's final this year; and only Sewall Shurtz and Dick Berry repeated in epee. The sabre field, which has been most static for years, saw considerable change and brought to the fore young Barry Pariser, N.C.A.A. champion; and in foil, which was free of major upsets, another N.C.A.A. champion, Herman Velasco, placed among the top six. Only two men—Allan Kwartler in foil and sabre and Ralph Goldstein in foil and epee—reached the finals in two weapons. The full story is told in the separate reports for each event.

In the team championships, only the sabre was successfully defended, but all the titles remained in the hands of New York's two strongest clubs, the Salle Santelli and Fencers Club. Strong bids were made by the Salle Csiszar of Philadelphia, by a team of U. S. Navy officers, and—in the women's event—by the teams from Northern California and Southern California.

This year's all-time record entry was 40 teams and 260 individual competitors, representing 22 divisions, the non-divisional group, the three armed services, and Canada. Only several last-minute withdrawals in both the team and the individual events kept the totals from being even more impressive. This is all to the good, for as the A.F.L.A. continues its steady growth, the nationals must also grow.

On the basis of the experience at last year's tournament, also a record-breaker up to that time, and the recommendations made by Miguel de Capriles, it was decided to hold the major part of the competitions in a large hotel ballroom. The comments of participants and spectators indicate that a "convention-type" tournament week is most satisfactory all around, and that we must make every effort in the future to schedule the entire tournament under one roof with a minimum of six strips available for every individual event.

A tournament of this size could not be possible without a great deal of planning and effort on the part of many people. Lou Shaff, Pieter Mijer, George Santelli and the Castello brothers were especially helpful and deserve our thanks. The Bout Committee, the Tournament Committee, and the many officials from the divisions and the metropolitan group who helped out also contributed greatly to the success of the nationals. Special mention should also be made of the staff of the Concourse Plaza Hotel, who gave full cooperation to the officials.

FOIL TEAM (5 teams)

A.F.L.A. Trophy

1. Fencers Club (Daniel Bukantz, Jose de Capriles, Harold Goldstein, Nathaniel Lubell).
2. Salle Santelli (Albert Axelrod, Ralph Goldstein, Allan Kwartler, Leonard Turk).
3. New York A. C. (Dernell Every, Silvio Giolito, Evan Quinn, Vincent Surdi).

The Fencers Club regained the foil team crown in an exciting final match against the Salle Santelli defending champions which went to the last bout. Dan Bukantz's victory over Ralph Goldstein was decisive, but the hero for the winning team was Nat Lubell, who fenced in every match and dropped only two bouts in the entire competition. The best individual score was Albert Axelrod's 8-0 record; his three victories against the Fencers Club proved unavailing as Kwartler contributed only one and Goldstein none. Len Turk was undefeated in five bouts, but he did not fence against the Fencers Club. Third place went to the New York Athletic Club also by 5-4, over the U. S. Air Force team.

INFORMATION ON THE "OMNIBUS" FILM

By Lou Shaff

The fencing show presented on the "Omnibus" program on January 30 (and described in the April issue of American Fencing) has been put on 16 mm. sound film. It runs about 15 minutes and is excellent as an orientation feature or as entertainment for groups of competitive fencers. Rental charges to A.F.L.A. members or groups, such as divisions, are $10.00; to schools and similar institutions, $15.00; in all cases, round-trip postage and insurance (for $100.00) are additional. The film may be kept for about a week. Renters are responsible for proper care of film, which should be rewound after each showing.

Permission for showing this film over local television stations should be requested from the Ford Foundation TV Workshop, 477 Madison Ave., New York 22, N. Y., stating time, station, etc.

DEADLINE FOR NEXT ISSUE — SEPTEMBER 10

ANNUAL MEETING

The Annual Meeting of the League was held on June 16, 1955 at the Concourse Plaza Hotel, New York. The first order of business was a showing of the "Omnibus" film. The interim financial report showed a net income for the year of $3,486.47 and gross operating reserves of $5,055.32. The forthcoming publication of the new rules book will absorb a substantial portion of these reserves. It is expected that the rules will be incorporated into a complete AFLA manual containing the constitution, information about the League, directions for starting a division, instructions for divisional officers, and other valuable information.

Col. Carhart reported the official adoption of 5-touch bouts in epee by the F.I.E. despite our objection at the Congress held in Venice on May 22. A new system of F.I.E. licenses is planned.

Sectional reports were presented by Vice-President Thompson, on the Midwest, and by Vice-President Makler on the North Atlantic. Fred Linkmeyer and Jack Baker reported on the Pacific Coast.

The following officers for 1955-56 were elected: Jose de Capriles, president; Dr. Paul Makler, first vice-president; Harold Van Buskirk, second vice-president; Gerard Biagini, third vice-president; Edmond Zeisig, fourth vice-president; Ralph Goldstein, secretary; Rudolph Ozol, treasurer; Tracy Jaeckel, foreign secretary.

The Nominating Committee for 1956-57 national officers was unanimously elected as follows: Donald S. Thompson, Midwest, chairman; Jack Baker, Pacific Coast; Jack Carnell, Southwest; Richard Dyer, North Atlantic; George Worth, non-divisional; Lt. Col. Thomas Carhart, armed forces at large.

A motion to amend Chapter II, Section 1-b of the By-laws to provide that sectional dues be paid by division secretaries directly to the sectional treasurer was seconded and carried.

Two motions were adopted for final vote at the annual meeting next year: (1) for the establishment of an Associate Life Membership with dues of $50, reduced to $25 for those who have been AFLA members for ten or more years; (2) for the creation of a New York Metropolitan Division with a charter provision that the new division must underwrite the cost of the national championships whenever they are not awarded to some other division.

Divisional reports were made by Philadelphia, Wisconsin, Maryland, Washington (D.C.), Illinois, Southern California, Northern California, Northern Ohio, Western New York, Connecticut, Central Illinois, New England, and Westchester. The coaches' association, through its president, Stanley Steja, pledged its continued full assistance to the AFLA. Mr. Edmond Zeisig stated that Milwaukee is hoping to bid for the 1957 national championships.

Several suggestions were made for rule changes, improved facilities, better publicity, and the development of stronger Olympic teams.

NON-DIVISIONAL MEETING

The following action was approved by the members present: Non-divisional governors of the AFLA for 1955-56: Maria Tishman, Dr. Daniel Bukantz, Leo Nunes, Ralph Marson, Basil Whittingham, Dorothy Friedman, Sol Gorlin, Norman Lewis and George Worth. Metropolitan nominating committee for the 1956-57 non-divisional governors: William Latzko, chairman, Austin Prokop, Albert Axelrod, Leon Schechter and Albert Vogt.

Announcement was made of the donation by the Fencers Club of a trophy in honor of Frederic Coudert. It was suggested that the trophy be awarded for a special invitation electrical foil team event, which might eventually become an open electrical foil team event. Scheduling of special electrical foil events in the metropolitan schedule was recommended. Favorable action at the AFLA annual meeting was also recommended with respect to the formation of a Metropolitan Division.

SABRE TEAM (6 Teams)Sherman Hall Trophy

1. Salle Santelli (Sol Gorlin, Tibor Nyilas, Alex Treves, George Worth).
2. Fencers Club (Jose de Capriles, Abram Cohen, Umberto Milletari, Arthur Spingarn).
3. Philadelphia Division (Wallace Farber, Theodore Freilich, Paul Makler, James Otto).

The supremacy of Salle Santelli in sabre has been so pronounced in the last 15 years that its successful defense of the team title came as no surprise. The four men used each dropped only one bout in the course of four matches, and only the runner-up Fencers Club team was able to win as many as two bouts. The Philadelphia Division composite team turned back the Armed Forces, 5-2 for third place. The Armed Forces team had scored an upset in eliminating the New York Athletic Club in the preliminary round.

3. Northern California Division (Tommy Angell, Shirley Canter, Mary Huddleson).

Salle Santelli, long a challenger, finally won the only team title it had never captured before by scoring 11 bout victories in the three-team final, as against 8 bout victories for Southern California and for Northern California, when the three finalists beat each other. Southern California took the silver medals by an 8-touch margin. The defending champions from the Fencers Club were shut out of the final when they were beaten by Southern California in the sudden-death semi-final.

The well-fenced final round was highlighted by two defeats sustained by Maxine Mitchell, by 4-2 scores, at the hands of Tommy Angell and Eve Siegel. Salle Santelli reached the final without dropping a bout; its semi-final victim was a fine group of girls from Minnesota who were making their debut in national competition. The Southern California squad included the youngest contestant in this year's nationals, 12-year-old Miss Madeline Miyamoto.

A surprise second was taken by the Navy Officers, led by Lt. William Andre, who barely squeezed through the preliminary round but in the final upset the defending champions from the Fencers Club by 5-4. Fencers Club placed third by defeating Princeton, the team that beat the new champions in the semi-final.

MAXINE MITCHELL

WOMEN'S INDIVIDUAL (53 contestants)

A.F.L.A. Trophy

1. Maxine Mitchell, Hollywood A.C., Los Angeles.
2. Louise Knab, Salle Santelli, New York.
3. Eve Siegel, Salle Santelli, New York.

Although this year's championship was not one of her best performances, Maxine Mitchell continues to dominate the women's field in no uncertain manner. As national and Pan-American champion, she was naturally the target of all her opponents, yet she often fenced carelessly, and she dropped an unimportant bout in the quarter-final. But in the last bout of the competition, with the title at stake against Louise Knab, Maxine fenced with her old authority to win, 4-1. The real story of the event was Knab's amazing performance. She fenced well enough in the early rounds, but she went generally unnoticed until she had run off five victories without loss in the final. She then continued to fence coolly, in good form, with excellent tempo; and despite her relative inexperience she never tightened up under the mounting pressure, and remained in contention for first place until her final bout. Third place went to Eve Siegel, who had been unable to compete last year and who matcher her experience in the Pan-Americans. Metropolitan Champion Ida Balint, who missed last year's finals on a fence-off, was fourth on touches over Judy Goodrich, who continued her steady climb toward the top. The two upsets of the competition were the elimination of Sally Chambers in the quarter-final and of Grace Acel in the semi-final. Madeline Dalton, Janice-Lee Romary, and Paula Sweeney did not compete.

ALBERT AXELROD

FOIL INDIVIDUAL (66 contestants)

John Allaire Memorial Trophy

1. Albert Axelrod, Salle Santelli, New York.
2. Daniel Bukantz, Fencers Club, New York.
3. Silvio Giolito, New York A.C., New York.

Albert Axelrod, showing no ill-effects from the leg injury he sustained at the Pan-American Games, won his first national title by defeating Dr. Daniel Bukantz, 1953 champion, on a fence-off. The defending champion, Joseph Levis, was unable to compete. Axelrod, the foil star of the U.S. Olympic team in 1952 and a strong contender for the championship ever since, fenced very steadily and entered the final unbeaten. He lost a bout there, 5-4, to the 1951 champion, Silvio Giolito, but won the other seven with only 11 touches against. Bukantz had several close calls, but showed he had regained most of his championship form. Giolito's excellent comeback—his victory over Axelrod enabled him to take third on touches over young Harold Goldsmith, the Pan-American champion—warned that he with the other three will be hard to displace for the 1956 Olympic team. Lubell, Kwartler, Turk and Goldstein, all of them finalists in the past, again made the magic circle; but special note must be made of a new-comer who placed sixth: Herman "Pete" Velasco, of the University of Illinois, Midwest and N.C.A.A. foil champion, who has excellent legs and a good feeling for the game. There were no startling upsets in this event: Charles Steinhardt, Paul Makler and Daniel Lyons missed the final on fence-offs.

ABRAM COHEN

EPEE INDIVIDUAL (76 contestants)

1. Abram Cohen, Fencers Club, New York.
2. Frank Bavuso, Fencers Club, New York.
3. Sewall Shurtz, Fencers Club, New York.

Abram Cohen, whose talent as a top-notch epeeist became evident in the Pan-American Games, became the new national epee champion by defeating his club-mate, Frank Bavuso, on a fence-off. Although neither man had ever been a medalist before, both had shown strength in metropolitan circles in previous years. The biggest field in the history of the national tournament also produced the most surprises, but two of our younger epee fencers showed excellent consistency in being the only finalists from last year to repeat. They are Sewall Shurtz, 1954 champion, and Richard Berry, 4th last year and 3rd in 1953, who were one touch apart in the tie for third place. Both men are in the Navy at the present time, and their steady performance in this unpredictable weapon makes them outstanding candidates for the 1956 Olympic team. Herman Wallner, another promising young man now in medical school, was a clear fifth. Sixth went on touches to a polished European epeeist, Dr. Paul DeMoge, over Princeton's Allan Hoffman, member of Stanley Sieja's trio of epeeists that featured last year's nationals. Tom Bickley and Ralph Goldstein, both former finalists, completed the final of nine. Lt. William Andre, Warner Kirchner and Alan Mitosky, missed the final on a four-way fence-off with Cohen. The quarter-final round saw the early elimination of Skrobisch and Conomikes, last year's medalists, Joe de Capriles, Thompson, Vebell and Makler. Kolowrat and Quinn fell by the wayside in the semi-finals.

SABRE INDIVIDUAL (65 contestants)
Graeme M. Hammond Memorial Trophy

1. R. Richard Dyer, Salle Csiszar, Philadelphia.
2. Sol Gorlin, Salle Santelli, New York.
3. Jose de Capriles, Fencers Club, Westchester.

Dick Dyer, flashing the form which he first attained in the Pan-American Games, captured the national sabre championship by defeating Sol Gorlin on a fence-off after both had finished the regular final with 6-2 records. Each won his first five bouts in the final, but then Gorlin, who had squeezed through on a fence-off, dropped two while Dyer split, so that they faced each other in the last bout with Dyer having a one-bout lead. Dyer made the mistake of pressing too much against Gorlin's magnificent defense, and lost 5-2. The fence-off was a bang-up battle, and even the deciding touch was a close call. Third place went to the veteran Jose de Capriles on touches over the young and promising N.C.A.A. champion from Columbia, Barry Pariser. The next four places went to members of the 1952 Olympic team: Kwartler, Nyilas, Worth and Treves. Michel Mamlouq of the New York A.C. was ninth. The defending champion, George Worth, suffered from a strained back but decided to fence it out instead of withdrawing. The major upset of the event was the elimination of Norman Armitage in the semi-finals for the first time within memory. Abram Cohen went out in the quarter-final. Excellent performances were turned in by the veteran Nickolas Muray, oldest competitor in the sabre field, who missed the final on a fence-off, Arthur Spingarn, Bob Blum, Walter Henry, Tom Carhart and Steve Sobel.

THREE-WEAPON TEAM (9 Teams)

Lt. George C. Calnan Memorial Trophy

1. Fencers Club (Daniel Bukantz, Harold Goldsmith, Alfred Skrobisch, Abram Cohen).
2. Salle Csizsar (Paul Makler, Alan Ruben, Richard Dyer).
3. Salle Santelli (Albert Axelrod, Walter Henry, Allan Kwartler, George Worth).

The Fencers Club finally broke Salle Santelli's stranglehold on the three-weapon team title since the war by winning its two matches on Gala Night. Skrobisch's victories in epee proved decisive. Philadelphia's Salle Csizsar also upset Santelli in the three-team final to win second place when Makler defeated Axelrod in foil and Dyer won from Kwartler in sabre. George Worth, who had been undefeated in this event in seven years, suffered his first setback at the hands of Edwin Richards, of the New England Division, in the first round, but came back to win the decisive bout against the New York Athletic Club in the semi-final. There was some disappointment due to the fact that the electric foil machine broke down at the last minute and could not be used for this event as had been planned.

SELECTION OF 1956
OLYMPIC FENCING TEAM

By Jose de Capriles, Chairman

U. S. Olympic Fencing Committee

The Olympic squads have been revised to take into account the results of the recent national championships. The schedule of tryouts will include a number of regional competitions open only to members of the squads as revised from time to time.

All candidates for the Olympic team must compete in their sectional championships, or in the case of New Yorkers, in the metropolitan championships. Those events will be counted as open Olympic tryouts. The 1956 national championships will constitute the final tryout.

The U.S. Olympic Fencing Committee has full discretion in the selection of the team. For its guidance, however, the Committee will use a point-scoring system, as follows: 1954 national championships, weighted to base of "1"; 1955 national championships, weighted "2"; Olympic tryouts, closed or open, weighted "2"; 1956 national championships, weighted "4". The Committee warns that physical condition will be a major consideration in the conduct of tryouts and in the final selections.

1. How much life insurance should a judge carry? How much a director?

2. Is double indemnity necessary for judging a clubmate?

3. What position should a director take? (If the answer is "close to the nearest exit," flunk him for being a coward. If the answer is not "close to the nearest exit," flunk him for being stupid.)

4. Fencer A makes a compound attack in second intention from the low line, with one minute to go; Fencer B makes into this attack a "finta in tempo" where the second motion is off the strip with one foot; but the director did not call halt and the jury of appeal is out for lunch. The question is, Which one of the director's eyes is made of glass?

(For the answer, see our next installment, with many more exciting features like "touches au bras.")

ABOUT THE ELECTRICAL FOIL

I think it may be interesting to the AFLA to have up-to-date information concerning the electrical foil, adopted for this year's World Championships and the Olympic Games in Melbourne.

In Italy tournaments with the electrical foil have been held in an increasing number and on an increasing scale. . . . I think the unfortunate experience at the Pan-American Games with the personal equipment should not be exaggerated. The organizers were not sufficiently acquainted with the apparatus and the fencers with their equipment. This will always cause trouble as long as each fencer does not have his own equipment.

It can now be stated that it is easy to judge foil with the electrical apparatus, not only for the director but also for the public who can follow the materiality of hits. This adds to the interest in the bouts.

Foil blades with the necessary channel are to be had from Souzy as well as Carmimari. The Italian blades as a rule are heavier, most of them being No. 6. The weight of the new French "pointe d'arret" (available in quantity from Souzy after June 1) can hardly be felt at the end of the blade; but some fencers, especially the ladies, may prefer to use No. 5 blades instead of No. 6, or No. 4 instead of No. 5. The front of the foil point is a half-sphere, like the new epee points, but is not cut up like the epee points. They have a rough surface only in front; there is no advantage to a rough surface on the sides because this would only increase the risk of getting invalid hits marked each time that the point, in passing, rubs slightly against the arm.

U.S.-Canada, August 26-27, 1955

The Canadian National Exhibition will again sponsor a U.S.-Canada team competition in Toronto, August 26 and 27, 1955. Teams will be of four members in all weapons. Selection of U.S. team will be made by A.F.L.A. executive committee from candidates who wish to be considered. Team members pay their own expenses.

The team thus far consists of: Anne Drungis, Judy Goodrich, Louise Knab and Sue Thompson; Albert Axelrod, Frank Bavuso, Richard Berry, Robert Blum, Daniel Bukantz, Richard Dyer, Silvio Giolito, Allan Hoffman, Nathaniel Lubell, Sewall Shurtz, Steven Sobel and George Worth. Leo Sobel will act as manager. Any and all fencing bugs who can go to Toronto that weekend will have a good time.

U.S.-Venezuela, September 1955

An invitation has been extended to Venezuela's international team to stop in New York en route to Europe in the first half of September for a team match in all weapons. Exact date and place will be available to interested members of the A.F.L.A. toward the end of August at the Secretary's office.

By HANS DRANKENBERG, Chairman
F.I.E. Commission on Electrical Apparatus

As far as the metallic vests are concerned, each fencer should have his own and learn to take care of it. Even big holes can be repaired, as the lame is very conductive.

Improper maintenance of personal equipment will always be the principal cause of difficulties and loss of time at tournaments, just as it was when electrical epee started. We will try to make this as fool-proof as possible, but some patience is necessary before conclusions are reached and broadcast.

The apparatus itself, as developed by Mr. Carmino and sold by the Carmimari firm, 17 Via Campania, Milano, Italy, is solidly built and functions extremely well. The F.I.E. Commission has examined several other makes, but so far none has been found quite satisfactory.

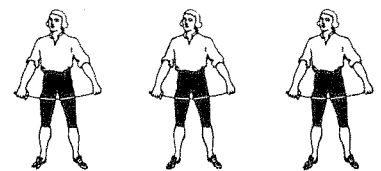

The F.I.E. Commission is quite certain that the "no foul" rule adopted in the United States for certain competitions will not be adopted internationally in the foreseeable future. It is therefore unfortunate to have research on the electrical apparatus in the U.S. concentrated on apparatus which do not register invalid hits.

On the other hand, the F.I.E. Commission is very much interested in the American experiment with tubular blades which permit the wire to go inside. Thus far we have not been able to obtain a sample and specifications on prices, delivery, etc. In drafting the rules for the electrical foil, we have made provision for the use of tubular blades, but we have not been able to draft specifications or to recommend them. We would really like to have a look at them.

World Championships, Rome, October 7-19, 1955

The following members of the A.F.L.A. have been authorized to represent the United States at the World Championships: Mrs. Julia Shoek and Miss Mildred Boyce, women's foil; Col. Thomas Carhart, Capt. Charles Steinhardt, and Lt. Charles Reese in foil, with Messrs. Bernard Shoek and Edward Treves as possible additions; Col. Thomas Carhart, Lt. Charles Reese, Ensign Roger Jones, Yeoman Sewall Shurtz, and Mr. Philip Leviton, in epee; Col. Thomas Carhart, Lt. Charles Reese, and Mr. Alex Treves in sabre.

TEACH A FEW YOUNGSTERS THE FUN OF FENCING

THE "NO FOUL" RULE AND THE COLLEGIATE ELECTRICAL FOIL

By Bela de Tuscan

I have read with great interest and appreciation the article by Dr. Daniel Bukantz about the "no foul" rule in the June issue of AMERICAN FENCING. The points brought out in the article describing the difficulties in directing and judging in the Eastern Intercollegiate Championships are of great value especially to the committee appointed to the further development of the electrical foil.

Actually the "no foul" rule began as an experiment toward the eventual use of the electrical foil. The members of the National Fencing Coaches Association of America felt that, if by electrical means the valid hit could be definitely registered, the delay in stopping a bout for foul and doubtful hits could be eliminated.

The midwestern universities, led by the Big Ten conference colleges, adopted the "no foul" principle and the rule has met with such popularity that it has been continued into the fifth year—even without the aid of the electrical foil.

The 1955 National Intercollegiate Championships were conducted under the "no foul" rule and as far as I know there were no complaints either from the contestants or from the officials who participated in that event.

Dr. Bukantz states, "Because of the apparent strategy of 'get there fustest with the mostest,' judging has become more dif-icult. Shades of old ink-epée judging—trying to count whether the third action on one side was before the sixth action on the other! Almost hopeless without an electrical apparatus." I fully agree with Dr. Bukantz's opinion.

Such an electrical apparatus must be of simple and rugged construction for durability, must register infallibly the valid hit, and yet must remain inexpensive.

An electrical foil with the above stated requirements was demonstrated at the 1955 Intercollegiate Championship tournament. The entire apparatus is composed of: (1) A perfectly balanced foil mounted with a tubular blade; the hilt portion may be mounted with any handle desired. (2) A metallic cloth half jacket which is superimposed on any standard fencing jacket. (3) The signal system containing the light, buzzer, relay, and small batteries. This exceedingly light plastic covered unit may be clamped onto any standard mask.

With the aid of such electrical means for establishing the valid hit by visual and sound registration, the director can halt the bout at the precise moment of scoring and render his decision. Through experience gained using electrical equipment, it will be evident to the collegiate contestant himself that the foul, laid on, or scrape do not register; therefore, he will be more successful if he continues the legitimate exchange of right of way until a phase ends in a valid hit.

From Harold Van Buskirk

A.F.L.A. Vice-President, Southwest

On this trip I had the pleasure of meeting Dr. Nino Bertolaia, the President of the Italian Fencing Federation, and Col. A. Pezzana, the Secretary. A demonstration of the new electrical foil was arranged for Mrs. Van Buskirk and myself at the Salle Pignotti, conducted by Maestro Pignotti, whom many American fencers will remember as an amateur in the 1932 Olympic Games at Los Angeles. One of the demonstrators had just returned the day before from Cairo, where he had taken the second medal.

The fencing was beautiful to watch. I was amazed at the machine because I was under the erroneous impression that we would have to change to a "no foul" rule with the use of the electrical machine; but this is not so, as the machine registers all fouls as well as valid hits. . . . The director must still analyze the play and make the decision as to who is hit, because a hit on one side will not shut off a hit on the other side unless the interval between the two is over a second. The director, unlike electrical epee, remains a very important figure and must follow the play very closely.

An interesting situation developed in one of the bouts: The machine registered a foul and good hit for the man on the right; and a good hit for the man on the left. The first impression was that the stop by the man on the left had hit directly and was in time. The analysis of the Director showed, however, that the direct attack, with the right of way, had first hit foul, and therefore everything else was annulled.

A.F.L.A. SCHEDULE

In order to avoid the usual early-season confusion about the date of the first few competitions, we publish here the tentative schedule of events for October and November. Educational Basis for Fencing

By Maxwell R. Garret

Fencing Coach, University of Illinois

In the history of education no subject has had more curriculum changes than physical education. The inclusion of fencing in the curriculum of physical education and athletics has expanded rapidly in the past few years due to the conviction among educators of its psychological, biological, physiological and sociological values.

In the realm of psychology, modern behaviorists have seriously questioned the theory of instincts, as experimentation and analysis has demonstrated that instinct after instinct is a learned reaction, a stimulus-response pattern. This means that educators cannot calmly lie back and "allow nature to take its course" with confidence that desirable traits and tendencies will come "instinctively." Desirable social responses, neuro-muscular coordination and ethical choices must be taught.¹ Consequently the principle of conditioned response may be the basis of all teaching.

Some may ask, "What of self-preservation?" It may be the only instinct, and yet it may eventually be proven to be a learned reaction also. "In primitive man self-preservation involved fear. Man was not the equal of the great beasts that roamed the earth. We could hope to exist only by running away."² Experiments by Watson show the remarkable association between running and fear.³ "But running away, with its accompanying paroxysm of fear, was an annoying experience. Man resented it and began to seek a way of avoiding it. He became angry. Anger is apparently almost as old and fundamental an emotion as fear itself. Gradually primitive man dared to oppose his enemies. He learned to throw and to use a club. . . . Fighting increased the emotion of anger as running had fear. Throwing and the use of a club added strategy—man began to think."⁴ This combative tendency helped to develop courage. "More fighting brought more courage. Success brought satisfaction, safety and freedom from the old annoyance of running away."⁵

Thus, associated with the instinct of self-preservation are the fundamental emotions of fear, anger, courage, fighting spirit, and the spirit of competition. The activities that were associated with these emotions were running, jumping, climbing, throwing, fighting and perhaps swimming. Of all these, fighting was the most complete and comprehensive, since it combined the emotions of all other types.⁶ It is therefore to the fighting games of today that we must turn for the stimulation of these fundamental emotions. And what game provides equal opportunities for men and women to fulfill these basic emotions? FENCING.

In fencing, an opportunity exists for the training and condition of both the large and fine muscle groups, which is important from the standpoint of the biological law of growth. The first are developed by the lunge, the advance, the retreat the second by the finer neuro-muscular coordination required of the hand and fingers in the movement of the weapon.

Fencing also offers an opportunity for diversifying the curriculum of athletics and physical education to provide for individual differences—differences in physical ability to learn new skills, differences in interests or preference of leisure-time activities, emotional differences, etc. Fencing provides a wide range of finely balanced physical and mental activity well suited to the development of the individual personality. The concept of education which the author prefers is that of a continuing process whereby a person is led on by interest from one experience to another in such a way that he acquires the knowledge, skill, habits and appreciation which will mean the greatest enrichment of his life.

Fencing is also an excellent carry-over sport which can be enjoyed throughout one's lifetime, almost anywhere in the world. In this respect it answers another deep-rooted need, for the social traits of cooperation, team-work, group consciousness unity, sacrifice for the group, date back to the beginnings of social evolution, with the development of fighting and hunting in packs or groups. Even today, if individuals in a group are to become socially integrated, they must do something together, play, dance or work together.⁷

In fencing, as in other athletic games, equal opportunity is more highly developed than in any other phase of life. "The pressure to win, bad as it is in many ways, does perform a service here. Every man is a welcome candidate, and if his ability justifies it, he makes the team regardless of color, race or ancestry. . . . Athletics are the greatest school of democracy and equity in modern life."⁸ Cheerful obedience to rules and laws is a social necessity in a successful democracy. No one commands such complete and cheerful obedience as the athletic coach. The laws of training, rules of the game, authority of officials, are laws by which much can be accomplished in contributing to the solution of this social problem. All I have observed during the past twelve years as head fencing coach at the University of Illinois has led me to this conclusion.

Ed. note. The foregoing is a condensation of an article written for The Physical Educator which eventually will become the introduction for a book on foil fencing by Mr. Garret.

MIDWEST CHAMPIONSHIPS

A record-breaking entry of 152 competitors from 12 divisions, requiring a total of 742 bouts to be fenced, featured the 1955 Midwest Championships held at the Woodland and Woodhill Recreation Centers in Cleveland on May 7 and 8. Eight fence-offs and numerous "crucial" bouts led to exciting finishes in all the events.

In the women's foil, Judy Goodrich and Sue Thompson swept through undefeated to meet in the last bout of the event, and Goodrich won the deciding bout, 4-0. In epee, the regular final ended in a four-way tie; after one fence-off, there was still a tie for first place, won on fence-off by Albert Wolff 3-2 over Bruce Davis, and a tie for third place, won on touches by Leslie Williams over Art Plouffe. In sabre, Jim Campoli won over John Cameron 5-0 on a fence-off. In the men's foil, Herman Velasco, NCAA champion, went through undefeated, and his victory was a popular one; he captivated the crowd with his bubbling good nature, excellent fencing and perfect sportsmanship.

A real disappointment of the tournament was the inability of three of the Midwest's leading fencers to compete: Paula Sweeney, Byron Krieger and Dick Berry.

Michigan won the women's trophy with 29 points, the men's trophy with 73 points, and the combined trophy with 102 points. Illinois was second with 95 and Northern Ohio third with 78. The other divisions finished as follows: Western New York, 57; Central Illinois, 56; Wisconsin, 50; Columbus, 43; Minnesota, 39; St. Louis, 30; Kentucky, 29; Miami Valley, 11; and Iowa, 3.
