DIDN'T GET MY COPY??

It is the custom of many divisions to send in membership lists late in the year. This means that American Fencing does not have copies of any new members until the following year. Obviously this is the cause of much misunderstanding.

It is the duty of all secretaries to send names and addresses of new members as soon as they are received so that we can provide a better service. The most common cause of annoyance is that due to a late first copy may not reach a school member when he may be off campus. If you are notified "moved" or "not at address" please advise the name goes off our mailing list so we can hear further. Thus a new member will receive a copy! Now he hates the problem caused by late lists is that they don't arrive too late for us to reprint order and we end up with too many copies to cover the total membership.

NEW PUBLICATION DATES

With this issue we change the bi-monthly schedule of American Fencing and end our twelfth year of publication. Henceforth issues will come to you in November, January, March, May, July and September. This will eliminate the problems of Christmas mail and give us only one issue during the summer college recess and thus reduce the number of returns (we hope). We also believe this schedule will fit in better with the more important fencing events throughout the country.

AMERICAN FENCING

U.S. ENTRIES TO WORLD CHAMPIONSHIPS

Lack of funds and over-riding business commitments played havoc with our plans for strong representation in Turin.

The generosity of Martini & Rossi assured us of four entries when they underwrote the transportation cost. The Board of Governors had received notice from Robert Beck, Robert Blum, Madeline Dalton, Martin Davis, Walter Farber, Neil Lazar and Ralph Spinella that they intended to go to the Championships at their own expense and requested permission to represent the U.S. With this in mind, the Board selected four men for the travel allowance whose presence would permit us to enter all events and field at least one and perhaps two reasonably strong teams. The selected were: Albert Axelrod (Captain), Abram Cohen (Manager), Michael Dasaro and Gene Glazer. From this group teams could be formed as follows: foil-Axelrod, Davis, Glazer, Lazar and Dasaro as alternate; epee-Beck, Cohen, Dasaro and Spinella; sabre-Blum, Cohen, Dasaro and Farber.

At the last minute it was learned that business reasons prevented Beck, Dasaro and Farber from going to Italy. The Executive Committee approved the transfer of the travel allowance from Dasaro to Herb Cohen at the last minute in the hopes that the foil team might then become our strongest threat. Unfortunately Davis never got to Italy and Lazar had to leave Turin before the team event. Abram Cohen was not available for the first round of the foil team, so Axelrod commanded the services of young Henry Powell who has been living in Germany... His modest protests that he was not good enough fell on deaf ears and as a matter of fact his one victory against Japan proved to be the deciding factor which enabled us to advance to the second round! Our performances in the individuals were disappointing: Axelrod was very sluggish and could not survive the quarter-final, Cohen was out in the second round of the epee, and all our others were out in the first round. We withdrew from the epee team event and our sabre team was pitifully weak with two foilsmen (H. Cohen and Glazer) supporting A. Cohen and Blum. At that, H. Cohen had a 2/5 record compared to Blum's 3/4 and Cohen's 4/3, and Glazer won a bout from the Italians.

The international experience was very good for Herb Cohen (his first), but it serves no purpose to give our fencers experience unless we know they are in perfect physical and psychological condition to profit from it.

RAOUL A. SUDRE

Cornell University has appointed Mr. Sudre head coach of fencing to succeed George Cointe. A native of Casablanca, he is a graduate of the School of Hotel Administration at Cornell and with his mother owns three hotels in Morocco. Star of the Cornell 1960 team, he was voted "fencer of the year" and received the Illinois Award at the NCAA Tournament of that year. He won the national foil title of Morocco last year. He is also a judo expert and will be in charge of this activity at the University.

Hawaii

by Capt. Everett Abbot

Mrs. Neomia Abbot, many time champion of Texas and Florida, added another and unusual state crown to her collection by winning the championship of Hawaii in a fence-off against her husband Capt. Everett Abbot and SM Sgt. Galen Thomason. This was the first title tournament in the state of Hawaii and was of special interest because there were not enough women fencers to hold separate competitions and Mrs. Abbot was permitted to fence against the men.

Today it has been a multi-page bulletin, "Sword" managed and distributed by me, the present Chairman. The have seen are truly impressive. A year ago I started the local Riposte as "The Voice of Oklahoma Fencing." It is difficult to measure the specific impact on the sport in the Southwest, but I know there is an increasing reliance on this monthly publication.

The North Texas Division has followed the lead of Oklahoma in putting out a newsletter called Point In Line. There can be no doubt these two papers raised the participation level of the Southwest fencers.

Several months ago American Fencing indicated that the Gold Coast Division also called their newsletter The Riposte. The publication edited by Max Lombard shows imagination, style and variety which other newsletters would do well to imitate. Perhaps we have other noteworthy publications of this nature in other Divisions. If not, your Executive Committee should establish one. If you already have one, please send me a copy. We could all benefit from a summary of what is being done to bring fencing and fencers into cooperation and harmony.

1961 NATIONALS

by Dr. Paul T. Makler and Donald S. Thompson

NOTE: The following report is commentary provided by Mr. J. J. Magary, chairman of the Bout Committee and President of the AFLA, and by Dr. Paul T. Makler, newly elected President of the International Olympic Committee and the contest with the World Championships. The over-all strength of this year's event to some degree. Janice Lee Romary was the only individual champion to win the crown. In the team events, the U.S.A. repeated in sabre and the U.S.A. kept both the foil and the U.S.A. Rossi trophies. The competition in the Martini & Rossi trophy was most interesting. Mr. Gregori Cavalchini, representative, personally presented the prize on Gala Night.

Linkmeyer had worked efficiently to get an excellent physical plant and to get things running smoothly. No Nationals in 19 years has been run with equal distinction. It is true that entries numbered only below the level of last year (1970 in the individuals) but every event in time, there was a rest period between events and no event lasted later than 10 minutes. All contestants, with the exception of two or three sabremen from the New York club, cooperated by being on time.

Each strip in foil and epee was with a double set of reels. Fencers were required to have two weapons, a glove, to connect themselves to the electric and sit in special chairs next to the scoring machine. This innovation permitted a flip of a toggle switch permitted the fencer to connect the desired set of weapons to the scoring machine. This innovation permitted one to two hours each day.

Unfortunately the selfishness of some concentrated officiating problems. Those who did a good job, but too few volunteers and fencers who were eliminated despite specific orders from the committee and thereby threw an unfair proportion on those who were willing to stand counted. While it is risky to mention names when so many worked hard and hard work and Halton Arp were par- outstanding. Their willing response and silent directing were especially appreciated by the Bout Committee. Ed Purdy and Gene Kurtz were unexcelled technicians, not only by their skill but by their tact, judgment and savoir faire.

The President of the FIE, Miguel de Capriles, added luster to the tournament. He was generous in his assistance as an official and particularly helpful in giving advice and counsel.

ED. NOTE: Dr. Makler writes: "Don Thompson took hold of the tournament and did a wonderful job." Mr. Thompson writes: "Paul Makler was cooperative, helpful, effective and indefatigable."

To our hosts in California, our thanks for a memorable Nationals and we hope to see you in New York next year before we return to California in 1963.

Dr. Graeme M. Hammond Memorial Trophy

Champion: Daniel Magay, Pannonia A.C.

2nd: Eugene Hamori, Salle Csiszar

3rd: Helmut Resch, Austria

Daniel Magay regained the crown he had won in 1957 and 1958, and defending champion Eugene Hamori was second. Helmut Resch, Austrian internationalist, looked like the winner when he defeated both Magay and Hamori, but he was in turn beaten by Ed Richards and Laszlo Pongo. The loss to Pongo gave Magay first place and put Resch into a tie for second with Hamori who had lost to the new champion. The tie was resolved by a margin of two touches. Resch's conduct and performance added luster to the one event which produced really top-level fencing. Ed Richards, the only native born finalist, fenced well and deserved his high place. New young talent was conspicuously absent except for Ben Bartholomew of San Francisco who could be a future champion if he continues to get good coaching. Mike Dasaro and Gerard Biagini were eliminated in the semi-final. Both Magay and Hamori, as well as 1959 champion Orley and Chaba Pallaghy will be citizens at the end of this year and eligible for world championship competition. Alex Orban will also be eligible in the near future.

A. F. L. A. Trophy

Champion: Janice Lee Romary, Los Angeles Fencing Academy.

2nd: Tommy Angell, Halberstadt School of Fencing

3rd: Harriet King, Salle Lucia.

Janice Lee Romary won her sixth individual national crown by scoring sixteen consecutive victories without a defeat during the entire event. Only Tommy Angell, who placed second on touches for, and Maxine Mitchell who repeated her 5th place performance of last year, were able to extend the veteran champion to 4-3 in the final round. Mrs. Romary now has won the title in 1950, 51, 56, 57, 60 and 61. There was a three-way tie for second, with Harriet King proving her consistency by retaining her third place of last year, while intercollegiate champion Paulette Singelaskis took fourth. Five of the finalists were in their first national finals, but they offered little threat to the established and familiar names. Evelyn Terhune, runner-up last year, was eliminated in the quarter final.

W. Sott O'Connor Memorial Trophy

Champion: Lt. Robert Beck USN, Pentathlon

2nd: Frank Anger, Princeton

3rd: Regis King, New York A. C.

Lt. Robert Beck, considered our strongest competitor in Modern Pentathlon competition, took the epee crown in convincing style to prove that his excellent performance of last year was no accident. His fellow-pentathlete Richard Stoll also impressed in taking fourth after a 3-way tie for second with two strong new-comers, Frank Anger and Regis King. Defending champion David Micahnik placed fifth and two other established epeeists, Ralph Spinella and Larry Anastasi reconfirmed their position in this weapon.

Except for a few notable exceptions, we do not see much evidence of consistent and thorough drilling on fundamental technique and are compelled to admit that unfortunately our epee fencing in general is third-rate. The American game is degenerating into a race to see who can blast in first. Attacks start out of distance in blind reliance on the advantages of confusion and irresponsibility. One couldn't help but wonder what would happen if these men had been facing any one of the scores of European epeeists. Only occasionally did one observe a good second intention. Frequently feints were so feeble or obvious that they worked only on those whose patience had worn out and wanted to get the thing over with quickly.

WOMEN'S TEAM

A.F.L.A. Trophy

Champion: Salle Santelli (Drungis, Pierce, Santelli, Terhune)

2nd: Los Angeles Fencing Acad. (Kagawa, Romary, Steinhauser)

3rd: Los Angeles F. C. (Despars, Hoblit, Mitchell, Rombeau)

The Salle Santelli showed the best bal-anced strength and won the title by a margin of three bouts after being tied by Aldo Nadi's LAFA. The runner-up team owed its high place to Janice Lee Romary's 10/2 perfor-mance, and the third place LAFC profited by the 9/2 record of Maxine Mitchell. The two bouts Mrs. Romary lost were in the final and although they did not affect the results, Mrs. Mitchell and Miss Terhune had the dis-tinction of being the only ones to defeat the Champion during the course of the two events for women.

Except for the few established stars the women's field did not appear as strong as it has been in recent years.

Foil Individual

(50 entries)

ohn Allaire Memorial Trophy

1st: Lawrence Anastasi, Salle Csiszar

2nd: Edwin Richards, New York A. C.

3rd: Martin Davis, Salle Csiszar

Three medalists tied for first and Lawrence Anastasi emerged champion on the foil. Edwin Richards, who had beaten his foil in the regular final, placed second and Martin Davis was third.

Most striking thing about the foil was the pure foil fencers (Goldsmith, Siland and Giolito) were eliminated while those whose reputation is based on epee, sabre, Spinella, Anger and Micahnik won the final. Is this coincidence, or does the effect of making the foil electrical in any rate, some of our foil fencers coming to international exposure, are conditioned physically, more mobile, beginning to adapt to the electrical Anastasi's victory was no accident — he won the North Atlantic title. To see a foil fencer like Spinella, Mooney, Anger and Micahnik a little disturbing until we note that Edwin Richards, Glazer, Paletto, Bukantz and Martin Davis did not compete.

Edwin Richards has again demonstrated that he is a generous and talented fencer in both sabre.

2nd: Salle Csiszar (Anastasi, Makler, Micahnik, Steinman)

3rd: Los Angeles A. C. (Barden, Bleamaster, Boyd, Linkmeyer)

The elimination of the Pentathlon team in the preliminary round was probably the biggest upset of the National Tournament. This left the New York A. C. and Salle Csiszar to fight it out for the crown and the New Yorkers came through in the final 5/4. The Los Angeles A. C. turned back a gallant Cavaliers trio for third place, also 5/4.

There were no outstanding individual performances in this event, but we expect to hear more from Pacific Coast Champion Steve Mutschenbacher, who placed sixth in the individual and had a good record before his Pannonia team was eliminated.

National Pentathlon

The national championships in modern pentathlon were held at Fort Sam Houston from July 8 through 12 and resulted as follows:

1. Jackson; 2. Beck; 3. Pesthy.

It is interesting to note that the three medalists were also the three high scorers in the fencing event, with Pesthy first, Jackson second and Beck third.

ARUBA

The Aruba Sports Union invited four members of the Salle Santelli to help raise the level of their newly organized fencing group. The four were: Rocky Feravolo, Bob Russell, Betty Santelli and Evelyn Terhune. They were there from June 23 to July 2 and found an enthusiastic welcome.

MARTINI & ROSSI TROPHY

The trophy emblematic of club supremacy for the entire National Championship Tournament was retained by the New York A. C. in an exciting race with the Salle Csiszar. Although neither club had a women's contingent to contribute to the total score, they both amassed a total greater than that achieved by any previous winners. The hero of the week-long drive for this trophy was Edwin Richards who fenced on three of the four N.Y.A.C. teams and also scored points in the foil and sabre individuals. The Philadelphia division, home of the Salle Csiszar, paid tribute to their gallant opponent by presenting him with a special award.

AMERICAN FENCING

North Atlantic

by Roger F. Jones
Vice President, AFLA

A record 101 competitors turned out for the 7th annual tournament which was held at Atlantic City's Convention Hall. There were two national champions in the tournament. By ruling of the Board of Governors they fenced hors-concours.

The new sectional champions were encouraged to try for a national crown at Los Angeles in July through the generosity of Martini & Rossi. Mr. Gregory Cavalchini represented our vermouth friends at all the finals.

Six prizes were awarded in each event. Dr. Daniel Bukantz, Jose de Capriles, Dr. James Flynn, Ralph Goldstein and Anthony Orsi gave us outstanding juries.

Larry Anastasi, Salle Csiszar, was forced into a 5-way barrage in the semi-final but he then disposed of D'Ambola and Davis before defeating Dave Fisher of the U. of P. for the title. Marty Davis, Salle Csiszar, downed Forrest Carter, Pittsburgh, for third.

A well balanced epee field narrowed down to four Philadelphians as National Champion Dave Micahnik won first over Kevin McMahon, U. of P., who became Sectional Champion by virtue of Micahnik's ineligibility. Larry Anastasi won third over Danny Steinman, Salle Csiszar.

In the sabre, National Champion Eugene Hamori (Salle Csiszar) avenged his only loss in 19 bouts when he defeated A. F. Witt of New England in the final match. Witt became Sectional Champion and Steve Nagy, also of New England, defeated Steve Cetrulo of New Jersey for third.

Denise O'Connor regained her title by defeating Anne Drungis who had just eliminated Evelyn Terhune. All three are from the Salle Santelli. Terhune won third from Dorothy Pohlman, Paterson State.

Metropolitan

The Metropolitan team and individual championships will determine the winner of the Leo Nunes trophy on a basis similar to that used in the Nationals for the Martini & Rossi trophy. Only clubs in the Metropolitan Division are eligible.

The team championships resulted as follows:

Sabre: NYAC "A" was undefeated in the final of four teams. Nyilas, Dasaro, Twardokens and Pallaghy turned back the Fencers Club "A" 5/2, Santelli 7/2 and NYAC "B" 7/2. Fencers Club (Cohen, Farber, Kemeny, Mayer) placed second, NYAC "B" third and Santelli fourth.

Epee: NYAC "A" (Spinella, Alexander, Powell, Garcia) won by turning back the Fencers Club "A" (Kolowrat, Margolis, Bauso) 5/4. The NYAC "B" was third and F.C. "B" fourth.

Foil: NYU "A" (Glazer, Cohen, Grafton) won the title while the NYAC "A" (Keane, Haaf, Giolito, Garcia) placed second. The Fencers Club "A" was third and Santelli fourth.

Women: The Fencers Club (Schoeck, Dalton, Sokol) won all its matches to place first. Fairleigh Dickinson (Miyamoto, Kuzen, Mosley) placed second with 1 match victory, 13 bouts and 75 touches against. Santelli was third with 1 match victory, 13 bouts and 84 touches, while N.J. was fourth with 1 victory, 12 bouts.

Standings thus far give the NYAC the lead for the Leo Nunes trophy.

Ed. Note: We regret that the results of the individuals have not been reported to us.

divisions were represented in the tournament held in Milwaukee at the Marquette University Gymnasium. The competition was indeed close with none of the champions having an undefeated record. In sabre and epee-offs were required to determine the winners. Two of the champions, Bill Goering and Larry Silverman in foil, had previously won titles; in epee, new champion Von Oppen was fencing in his first National Tournament while in women's foil Auriel Witte won her first title after a finalist many times.

Michigan Division again won the team and Illinois was again a strong challenger.

Fencers from four Divisions and from two Mexican universities competed at El Paso.

The women's title went to Miss Rosa Maria Del Moral of the Polytechnic Institute of Mexico. Miss Del Moral was the only undefeated champion in the tournament. Helen Gray of North Texas was second and an interesting tie for third was resolved in favor of Alice Wade, Sr. over her daughter Alice Wade, Jr. and Marietta Towry. The Wades are from Oklahoma.

Veteran Oscar Parsons of Oklahoma won the foil title on a fence-off with Paul Pesthy of the Gulf Coast. Parsons also reached the final by way of a fence-off, this time against Tom Bickley. Third went to Ed Sims of North Texas.

Dick Stoll of the Gulf Coast was undefeated in the final round of nine in epee, with Pesthy a close second. Arnold Sowell, Gulf Coast, and Jack McDaniel, Border, tied for third and placed as listed.

The sabre title was won by Paul Pesthy who thus established a record of one first and two seconds. One second was on a fence-off and the other by the margin of one bout. Three men tied for second and placed as follows: Tom Bickley, North Texas; Ed Sims, North Texas; Roberto Eibenschutz, University of Mexico.

The team events, due to lack of time, were run on a new system: each team entered one member in each weapon. A pool for each weapon was then fenced off and the trophy for the weapon went to the team whose member won the pool. Results: Foil Team won by North Texas (Tom Bickley); Epee Team won by Gulf Coast (Dick Stoll); Sabre Team won by Gulf Coast (Arnold Sowell).

COMMENTS ON THE F.I.E. CONGRESS

by Dr. Paul T. Makler

The 42nd Congress of the Federation Internationale d'Escrime took place in Oslo with Miguel de Capriles presiding. General Grombach was present as Secretary of the F.I.E. and Dr. Paul Makler represented the A.F.L.A. The factual record of the Congress will appear in the official Proces-Verbal but there are certain matters that deserve discussion.

The major concern of the Congress was the length of important competitions. All agreed these events are straining facilities beyond the point of efficiency and that we must expect more countries will join the FIE and thus increase further the number of competitors. The proposed solutions to the dilemma fall into three groups:

- Direct elimination. Either initially or after one or more rounds of pools.
- Reduction in the size of teams from 4 to 3 members.
- Regional try-outs with either 16 or 8 countries accepted for the final tournament.

No substantial agreement existed towards any of the proposed plans. Solution 'c' involves a great added expense of time and money. It favors those countries where fencing is subsidized and is almost prohibitive to nations like the U.S. where fencing is self-supported. Solution 'b' is objected to by the strong fencing nations because upsets are more likely. They claim it is hardly a 'team' event when one fencer can win 60% of the bouts needed for a 'team' victory. For the same reason the less strong nations favor the 3-man team. Solution 'a' presents the difficulty of seeding. All admit it is acceptable only if a satisfactory seeding formula is developed. A committee was appointed to consider the problem and present a plan for action at the next Congress. My guess is that the U.S. had better accustom itself to the direct elimination system.

A new system was adopted for epee whereby if the fencers are tied in the regulation time they will fence a maximum of one additional minute and, if still tied, a double loss is declared.

Cairo will hold the Creterium for Under-Twenty in April of 1962 and Buenos Aires will stage the World Championships later in 1962.

The action of the Eastern European countries in withdrawing from the Under-Twenty competition at Duisbourg was discussed as was the action of the FIE Bureau in conjunction with the affair. The difficult situation subsided with nobody trying to force a show-down. Each side felt a measure of justice in the position of the other. With respect to future competitions all agreed that firm commitments of impartiality must be made by the host country before the tournament is awarded. Egypt gave such assurances for the Criterium in 1962.

This was the first Congress held under the all-American Bureau and Miguel de Capriles presided over an agenda packed with items wherein national interests sharply divided the delegates. Political overtones beyond the reaches of fencing intruded in all debate and personal antagonisms threatened to override discretion at times—yet always control had to be tempered with fairness. This, the first non-European Bureau was under intense scrutiny as to its motives, its methods, and its ability. With absolute honesty and pride I can assure you that Miguel de Capriles did his job excellently. He brought credit to himself and to American fencing.

All the individual finals were evenly balanced that no champion was undefeated.

Arrangement was held in a new sports arena admirably suited for fencing and, as the Italian Federation had organized it beautifully. Unfortunately the site was a distance from the center of Turin and the events were not well attended by the public. Foil Individual

Champion: Richard Parulski, Poland

2nd: Jenő Kamuti, Hungary

3rd: Mark Midler, USSR

Parulski outlasted Kamuti and defeated him 5-0 in the fence-off for the title. The new champion has a good sense of distance and an accurate point but he technically is not in the same class with recent champions such as Jdanovitch and D'Oriola nor, for that matter, with other finalists such as Midler and Magnan. Midler, Jdanovitch and Magnan tied for third. The popular Bill Hoskyns continued to amaze with his cool generalship on the strip. Olympic runner-up Sissikine was eliminated in the quarter-final, as was Olympic bronze medalist Axelrod.

The over-all strength of the field was below par and, in the opinion of most, the fencing was of poor quality.

 Alexandra Zabelina, USSR
 Valentina Rastvorova, USSR

Olympic Champion Heidi Schmid was a victor. In her last bout she had to Miss Zabelina in order to avoid a tie and the cool youngster did just that with a -2 score. Zabelina took second and Valentina Rastvorova (runner-up in Rome) placed third. Behind her teammate Gorokhova Maria's Orban who had placed 4th in Rome respectively in the Olympics. Maria Rastvorova medalist in Rome, was eliminated in the quarter-final.

Epee Individual

Champion: Jack Guittet, France
2nd: Hans Lagerwall, Sweden
3rd: Thomas Gabor, Hungary

France's Jack Guittet won an exciting final which mixed great acrobatic ability with excellent technique and sound tactics. The exponents of time and distance alone were unable to cope with the sound technical game demonstrated by the champion and runner-up Lagerwall. The young Swede was particularly impressive because despite his youth (he won the Under-Twenty title at Duisburg) he fenced with the cool assurance of a veteran of many World Championship finals. Hungary's Gabor is not a stylist but he is a good tactician and very patient. Russia's Khabarov was the only Olympic finalist (he placed third in Rome) to reach the final and this time placed fourth on touches over his teammate Tchernouchevitch and Sweden's Abrahamsson. The indefatigable and versatile Bill Hoskyns was again in sight and were it not for two 5-4 losses would have ranked high.

Olympic Champion Delfino was eliminated in the quarter-final; 1959 Champion Lafranc in the second round; Olympic runner-up Jay in the preliminary.

Sabre Individual

Champion: Iakov Rylskii, USSR

2nd: Emil Ochyra, Poland

3rd: Wojciech Zablocki, Poland

The Soviet's Rylskii was forced into a fence-off with Poland's Ochyra but actually dominated the deciding bout by a bigger margin than the score shows (5-4). An inexplicable loss to Italy's Chicca and a close 5-4 to the powerful Calarese (who also beat Ochyra) were the only lapses by the champion. Zablocki deserved his third place in the best fenced final of the tournament.

Olympic Champion Karpati fenced only in the team event; runner-up Horvath was eliminated in the semi-final. Poland contributed three men to the final. Italy two and Russia, France and Hungary one each.

The Priceless Extra of Experience

Think for a moment of the many choices we make in life which are determined by our confidence in somebody's experience.

Choice in important things, like selecting a doctor, a lawyer, or an investment counselor. In less important things, like having something repaired. In even minor, everyday, personal problems.

So deeply ingrained is this basis for choice in all our actions, it comes as no surprise when so many experienced travelers say that this is why, when they fly overseas, they put their trust in Pan American.

For Pan American is "The World's

Most Experienced Airline"—in years of flying over the seven seas—in every type of transport plane—in fine mechanics who maintain these planes—in pilots and engineers who fly and navigate them—in services to care for you before you embark, while on your flight, and when you land. All under the high discipline of U.S. flight standards.

A Pan American traveler is a confident traveler, reposing his trust in these years of experience in getting you from here to there—comfortably, dependably, serenely.

It's a great experience to fly with experience on Pan American.

Epee Team

Champion: USSR

2nd: France

3rd: Sweden

4th: Italy

Olympic Champion Italy had to be content with fourth place. The new champions swept into the final with ease, turned back Sweden 9/4 in the first match of the final and then, thanks to four low-touch victories by Gouram Kostava, built up such a touch margin that France was beaten at 8/7. France's Philippe Schraag contributed three victories to the losing cause. Sweden's victory in the third place match was also made possible at 8/7 by virtue of their touch margin. The defeat was particularly sad for Italy because the old reliable Delfino pulled himself together and scored four brilliant victories.

AMERICAN FENCING

Foil Team

Champion: USSR

2nd: Hungary

3rd: Poland

4th: West Germany

The Olympic Champions retained their crown but had a close call in the semi-final with Great Britain (8/8). Runner-up Hungary also had an 8/8 semi-final match, with West Germany, and in the same round West Germany lost another 8/8 to Italy but managed to squeeze into the final by a margin of three bouts.

Hungary lost the match for first place despite excellent performances by the Kamuti brothers (4/0 and 2/2). France and Italy failed to survive the semi-final.

Again the fencing was fast, athletic and some times dramatic, but good foil technique and tactics were seldom seen. It is worthy of note that even the French are now using the pistol grip in an effort to regain control of the point and are thereby sacrificing the fast, precise hands which produced virtuosos like D'Orlola and Buhar.

The first two places remained in the hands of the USSR and Hungary. The Olympic Champions from Russia were never seriously challenged, as no team was able to take more than five bouts from them. Hungary also outclassed the rest of the field. Romania took a close one from Italy (9/6) to win third place, but the Italian girls gave the home crowd its first chance to cheer by reaching the final.

 final match was full of drama even though the score was not close. The high-Poles jumped to a 4/0 lead and then eventually determined Russians moved forward 4/3. At this crucial point Zablocki, not undefeated, stopped the Soviet advance and from then on Poland could not ed.
 Hungary turned back Italy for third place match that of course had the partisan in its feet. Mendelenyi and Calarese for their teams, but the Hungarians better balanced strength.
 An unusual indication of the balanced nature among the four finalists was the result of the first direct elimination round: Poland defeated Italy 8/8 by a margin of one touch despite four brilliant victories by Stocky Calarese, and the USSR turned Hungary 8/8 with a four touch advantage. Though Kouznetsov was unable to take a bout in this match, he managed to score four touches in each case.

IT IS FENCING FOR, DAD?

By Richard J. Perry

quires an uncluttered mind to penetrate the heart of things. On a Sunday not long ago I was brooding, as are wont to do, over a 14-13 loss the preceding day by my University oit fencers. My nine year old son who had been a combination score — spectator — cheer leader during preceding afternoon's agony, walked into and without preamble said: "What ng for, Dad?" Thank goodness I chewing tobacco, for I gulped hard ed to shift mental gears. Finally I eid for time to organize an answer of his question. He went on his way mply forgot the question, but I ng is many things to many people. romanticist it is a glamorous connecth ages past. For the dilettante it is "leman's" leisure time activity. For ng Olympic candidate it is an obsesor the ex-collegian it is a good conthe waistline. For the new girl at it is an attractive source of man-

For the collegiate competitor it is organized fight. For this hobbyist-t is a vehicle of great educational In framing my answer to Reid's I am trying to capsulize my conthe place of our game in the Ameri/ of life. My remarks are restricted essions gathered from my collegiate 3 experience.

Collegiate fencing has increased in uring the past quarter century and increases its value as a training for American men of the generation ching maturity. It helps the fencer to think, analyze, take action and t blazing speed under the most immpetitive conditions. Because it is , the fencer who errs in decision or n can survive to benefit from his d try again for success. Each bout fencer wins reinforces his confidence wn ability to think and act at high nder trying conditions.

For girls at the scholastic and collegiate levels fencing offers one of the few opportunities they may ever have to undergo an intensely competitive experience. This experience can provide background for better understanding of the competitive conditions in which most of their men will make their careers.

For this hobbyist-coach the development of a collegiate team affords opportunity to learn ever more about people and their interactions under a variety of conditions. It offers opportunity to continually improve effectiveness in the communication of ideas. It affords me opportunity to assist the young men who compete for the University to develop their various skills toward coping with our accelerating civilization.

Wellington's comments about the playing fields of Eton can be aptly applied to American collegiate fencing. So I say to Reid, fencing is one good way to practice for adult life itself, and enjoy every moment of it.

Florida State Championship

by Mac Lombard

The new Gold Coast Division dominated the annual tournament held at the Doctor's Motel in St. Petersburg. The division captured first and second in the three men's events and won all three medals in the women's. This is an amazing record in view of the ever-improving quality of the fencers participating and is a tribute to the fencing masters of the Gold Coast.

Loretta Kushner of the Salle Florio, defending champion, has yet to meet her master in Florida. Jerry Finney of the Salle de Tuscan made a successful defense of his sabre crown. Sy Eisenfeld, de Tuscan, was able to upset defending champion Bob Colwell of the Central Florida division when Howard Eisenfeld defeated Colwell in the last bout. The epee crown was won by Gerry Taines of the Salle de Tuscan.

Results

Women: 1. Loretta Kushner, Florio, G.C.; 2. Sandy McCue, Unatt., G.C.; 3. Gretchen Summerfield, de Tuscan, G.C.

Foil: 1. Sy Eisenfeld, de Tuscan, G.C.; 2. Mac Lombard, Florio, G.C.; 3. Bob Colwell, St. Pete, Cent. Fla.

DIRECT ELIMINATION

by Roger Jones

Vice President, AFLA

Our experience with direct elimination in the North Atlantic Championships deserves comment.

Six months prior to the tournament we decided to use direct elimination (2 out of 3 bouts) in the finals of all events. With a record entry far in excess of any previous year, we extended the original plan to include a direct elimination semi-final in order to make maximum use of 6 strips and 6 non-fencing officials for two days. When last minute withdrawals on the first day (injuries, illness, etc.) forced rearrangement of preliminary pools and eliminated the need for a quarter-final, we decided to return to the original schedule and hold only the final by direct elimination. This was a mistake. Two officials never showed up, and extensive delays were caused by barrages (one of 5 fencers) in every round and by men who had entered the two events (foil and sabre). As it was, only the use of direct elimination enabled us to complete the foil that first night and the sabre final had to be postponed to the next day. Chastened by this experience we held the semifinals of the second day's events (epee and women) by direct elimination. Despite the addition of the sabre final all went smoothly and we finished in the early evening.

One group of girls complained (no men did) that the system provided less experience than by round-robin. Study of the records show that at worst a girl lost three bouts worth of experience. As was stated in the December '60 issue of American Fencing: "It is time we recognized that the primary purpose of National, Sectional and Metropolitan championships is to determine the champion and top contenders and not to provide experience and training which should be obtained in non-championship events." The reasons for direct elimination are thus proved:

1. The logical outcome of a match between two contestants is that the loser is eliminated. This is true in wrestling, boxing, tennis, etc. Furthermore, the use of direct elimination is well established in Europe where even the French Olympic tryouts were based on it.

2. Promotion of the sport demands that a time-table be set so that the progress of the champion can be followed as he defeats all his opponents. The round-robin is protracted and subject to unpredictable delays such as barrages. It is confusing to see the eventual champion losing bouts or to see fencers who win bouts be eliminated while their victims pass on to the next round. Press and TV coverage normally cannot be arranged unless the time of the championship bout can be predicted within a 30 minute span—obviously impossible in a round-robin.

3. Increasingly large entries cannot be handled by round-robin when time, officials and facilities are limited. Officials cannot be expected to be on their feet for hours on end for an interminable number of bouts and the result usually is that the deciding last few bouts at the end of the day are between tired fencers judged by officials who are below par in efficiency.

4. We need experience in the type of fencing demanded by direct elimination. It seems likely that the Olympics and World Championships will be organized on this basis so as to accommodate the swelling number of competitors. We also need experience in administering such tournaments.

We recommend that divisions plan now to schedule one or more direct elimination events per weapon next season. Direct elimination will be the next major change in competitive fencing—prepare for it now!
