Congratulations to us - this completes our 15th year of publication.

Elizabeth Ferrari

The passing of Elizabeth Ferrari on June 9, 1964 is mourned by the Northern California Division, and by her many friends in other areas.

She was active as a fencer and divisional corresponding secretary for three years. Two years ago her health began to fail, yet she continued her work at the Hooper Foundation at the University of California in San Francisco, and her art studies at the university in Berkeley.

Elizabeth was a woman of great intelligence, dignity, wit and charm. Although her medical knowledge must have made her fully aware of her illness and its prognosis, she approached her end with a calm courage and poise worthy of the highest traditions of fencing.

ANOTHER INNOVATION

Now - another step forward that will please so many fencers - unbreakable plastic handles (to replace wooden ones) on all of our standard French foils. Light, tough, perfectly cast to fit your hand, it makes your foil a better weapon than ever before.

Just one more among the hundreds of innovations we have developed since 1914 in order to make the game safer and more enjoyable.

NEW FENCERS IN NEW MEXICO

by Belle Saunders

Starting from scratch in two short years a priest in New Mexico has built up an enthusiastic and most promising group of fencers. These students have fenced well in local competitions and are learning to love the sport.

Father Eugene Botelho of the San Juan Mission, Farmington, has introduced fencing in all three weapons. He fenced epee at Haverford College in Pennsylvania and set a record for the number of bouts won against those lost that went unbroken for almost 20 years. He was also Epee Champion of the Philadelphia Division in 1941 and Epee Champion of Wisconsin in 1947.

In his coaching Father Botelho emphasizes good manners and good sportsmanship, and not winning at all costs. On his return to competition circles he was concerned to see and hear the lack of courtesy and sportsmanship on the strip. "Fencing is associated with gentlemen", he states, "and the manners and behavior of gentlemen should be displayed. Article 390 of the AFLA Rules (page 65) should be known, but should not be brought to the fencer's attention as a threat to force seemly behavior on the strip".

In February of this year the Farmington Fencing Club sponsored an invitational meet for the New Mexico Division. In the novice foil event Father Botelho's students took the top three places against a group from Albuquerque. He writes: "Fencing has always been fun. Winning is a pleasant experience. It should not be a matter of rude manners or of boorish behavior that other fencers—and spectators—remember".

With the success of his team it can be seen that good manners and sportsmanship does not prevent Father Botelho's boys from getting their share of medals.

Symbol of air travel dependability

Those three letters do much more than name an airline. They assure you of on-time flights to 70 major U.S. cities and 15 world centers overseas. Of skilled, experienced flight and ground crews. And of the thoughtful, attentive service that makes air travel a real pleasure. Good things to know, next time you take a trip. THE 1964 NATIONALS

by Dr. Daniel Bukantz, Chairman

National Bout Committee

The Tournament was held in Atlantic City's beautiful and spacious Convention Hall. The New Jersey Division hosted one of the noothest running competitions ever held, with 15 metallic strips available. The lighting was good and space between the strips was sufficient to insure the safety of officials. Electrical equipment was abundant and the double shooting by the Technical Committee was unbelievably quick and efficient. Our thanks for the magnificent work of the Organizing Committee headed by Tony Orsi.

No individual champion was able to repeat, yet each was in contention until the very end. The fencing was excellent. As is usual in an Olympic year, the entry list was large for individual events. In the past, the nationals were the ultimate tryout for the Olympic Team. This year there was to be a "super" tryout at the World's Fair immediately following the Nationals and this undoubtedly had the effect of reducing the size of the entry in team events.

Despite the large entry and the limited time available, each event finished on schedule except the epee individual which required postponement of the final to the following day.

It would not have been possible to handle all the problems inherent in such a tournament without the invaluable assistance of a great many officials, and especially of Irwin Bernstein, Jose de Capriles, Ralph Goldstein, Bill Latzko, Paul Makler, Denise O'Connor and Ed Zeisig.

SABRE INDIVIDUAL

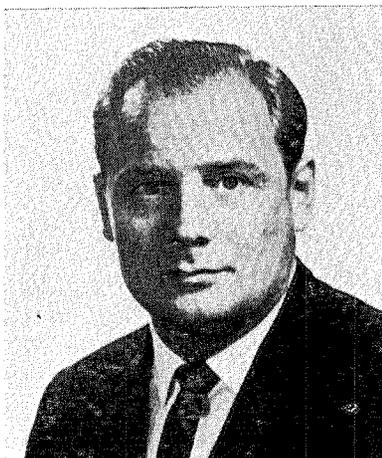

Dr. G. M. Hammond Memorial Trophy

Champion: Attila Keresztes, New York AC
2nd: Eugene Hamori, Salle Csiszar

3rd: Lt. Alfonso Morales, USN, Pentathlon

Last year's title was decided on a 3-way fence-off among Hamori, Keresztes and Morales who then placed in the order named. The same three men tied for the title this year, with Keresztes the victor, Hamori second and Morales third. The sabre produced some excellent bouts. Only Magay, Champion in 1957, 1968 and 1961, runner-up in 1962 and absent from competition in 1963, disappointed with a lack-luster performance in the final. The field was extremely strong from the quarter-finals on.

an American made shoe designed especially for FENCING

A fencing shoe of unique design, made on our own exclusive lasts based on orthopedic principles, to meet the conditions of the sport and give you the fullest use of your abilities.

On the left shoe, the sole is brought up on the inside to protect the arch from chafing and to prevent excessive wear at this spot. This gives you more positive action and lessens fatigue.

On the right shoe, the heel is extended and curled back to permit easy "flow" of motion when body weight is put on heel. This feature cushions and protects the heel from bruises and shock.

This quality shoe is made with a full grain, glove soft, leather upper and a long wearing sole of Dupont HYPALON.

The NYAC displaced the Fencers Club with the highest point total achieved to date. This makes the 4th victory for the AC since the Trophy was introduced in 1958 and the point score is all the more noteworthy because the winners do not have a women's contingent to contribute to the total.

THE OLYMPIC TRYOUTS

World's Fair - July 12-14, 1964

The Tryouts at the World's Fair were a magnificent fencing show. The large stage and the angle of the two strips gave the audience an excellent view of the bouts. The smooth conduct of the events was a tribute to the careful planning and attention to detail which Ralph Goldstein provided.

The new National Champions were at a disadvantage. For them, it was an anti-nax and the fine edge they had attained over the days before was dulled. They all placed high or lower. Nevertheless the fencing was excellent and the winners were all proven champions.

Harriet King, who had lost her national title by one bout, out-steadied three other contenders in a four-way fence-off. Alice Gerakin, Madeline Miyamoto and Maxine Mitchell who had failed to reach the finals of the Nations, placed 5th, 6th and 7th respectively.

Daniel Magay regained the superb technical control he lacked in the Nationals and defeated an inspired Robert Blum in a fence-off for first in sabre. Three men tied for second.

Frank Anger, Pan American Champion, shed Larry Anastasi in the fence-off for first in epee. Robert Beck placed third but used a tie for first when he fenced his second bout in a reckless hurry.

Albert Axelrod scored a clear victory in his first bout. The pleasant surprise was Bob Jones' excellent competitive effort which earned him a second place on touches over Richards. Uriah Jones had a golden opportunity to become the first Negro to make the Olympic fencing team, but he either had an off day or the pressure was too great. He has been a consistent and strong performer despite his relative inexperience in fencing.

Bela De Tuscan Memorial

Starting this November the Florida Gold Coast Division will hold an annual De Tuscan Memorial three-weapon meet. Each participant will fence his opponent a three-touch bout in each weapon. The winners will be determined by the total number of victories.

An attractive trophy will be offered, and may be retired by three successive victories. The event, and the prizes are sponsored by Herman Boehme, fencing master at Coral Gables Youth Center, and formerly at the Hollywood AC and his own Salle in Los Angeles.

SELECTION OF 1964 OLYMPIC TEAM

by Dr. Paul T. Makler, Chairman,

U. S. Olympic Fencing Committee

The procedure for team selection was published in May and September of 1963. The best 2 of 3 preliminary events, plus the 1964 National Championships, were to be used to determine cumulative points and decide who would compete in the Tryout at the N.Y. World's Fair. The top nine, plus any tied for 9th, would be invited. A "tie" was defined as within one place (11 points). The results of the Tryout would be added to previously earned points and the top 5 in each category would be the team. In the event of a tie (within 17 points, after the Tryout) the Committee would choose. The number of points for ties (11 or 17) are derived from the point weighting system that fixes 12 points for one place after the Nationals and 18 points after the Tryout.

Just before the Nationals we were informed that a new IOC ruling made Hamori, Keresztes and Magay eligible for the U. S. team. Previously they had been barred because they represented Hungary in the 1956 Olympics. We had to devise a system that did not penalize them for being excluded from the earlier tryouts. We decided to record their results in the 1964 Nationals and credit them with a similar performance in the events from which they had been excluded. At the end of the Nationals 10 entered the Try-out in Epee, 11 in Foil and Women's Foil and 12 in Sabre.

After the Tryout, the standings in each weapon were:

The Committee in each case selected the top five point winners, selecting Anastasi in two weapons. The top four scorers going into the Tryout, in each weapon, held their places while the fifth (or tied for 5th) was replaced by the results of the Tryout. In foil, Jones dropped from his tie with Richards and Russell's fine performance did not catch the leaders. In Epee, Anastasi and Beck rose above Wommack and Morales. The latter was omitted as an epee alternate because of his place on the sabre team. In Sabre, Blum and Magay tied for first with Magay winning the fence-off. This result, coupled with lesser performances by Dasaro and Farber, gave Blum fifth and Magay sixth. Farber was selected alternate over Mayer on the basis of his greater consistency during the past few years. In Women's Foil, a strong finish by Drungis (tied for first) and a weakening by Sokol and Mitchell, caused a 3-way tie for fifth. Drungis was selected over Miyamoto and Gerakin.

Dr. Paul T. Makler had already been named Captain, and Dr. Tibor Nyilos was chosen his alternate. The Olympic Coaches are Michel Alaux and Chaba Elthes. Edward Lucia is alternate to Mr. Alaux and Lajos Csiszar to Mr. Elthes. Dr. Joseph Byrnes was selected Armorer, with James Castello as alternate.

The Committee is only too aware that the selections leave wounds. Daniel Magay, who won the sabre Tryout, did not make the team and Bob Russell, with his excellent second place in foil, also missed. Choosing among the three tied women was difficult. When a series of tryouts is used, rather than one, such happenings are inevitable. Correspondence during the past few years and opinions expressed during the past few weeks make me very sure that the U. S. fencers want their Olympic teams selected on the basis of a visible point system that enables each one to see how his record compares with that of his rival. We congratulate the Team and hope that those who came close will be stimulated to superior performances.

(Ed Note: The Committee consists of Dr. Makler, chairman; Jack Baker, Elwyn Bugge, Hugo Castello, Lajos Csiszar, Warren Dow, Maxwell Garret, Ralph Goldstein, Eugene Hamori, Allan Kwartler, Charles Schmitter, George Shiebler and Edmund Walker. OBSERVATION ON THE NATIONALS

by Eugene Blanc, Jr.

No gloss on the Nationals can properly be given without praise and thanks to the Host Institution and the Organizing Committee. The efforts of hard work and long preparation are everywhere evident. The many juries, referees, technicians, scorers, etc. all deserve gratitude.

In sabre the trend to the longer attack was evident. The blades seldom met in the conventional en garde position and there were fewer actions on the blade. Hamori eschewed the en garde squat. He advanced and retreated agilely from an upright position. He went into his fleches from straight knees. He esztes fenced cautiously until his first touch with Hamori, when he switched to a defensive multiple attacks. In the thrilling tie-off he reverted to his earlier game. He had a "off day" yet managed to advance to the finals. He typifies the cool classic sabreur. Bloom, Dasaro and Keane exemplify the long-range game with fast, multiple attacks. Morales was the best conditioned fencer in the field and again tied for the injuries plagued the sabremen. My Shore suffered a sprained ankle; Hamori a strain in the left thigh; Curt Ettinger pulled a muscle; Harry Mayer turned an ankle; Wally Herber injured his left leg; Bobby Blum had a severe cramp, as did Tom Orley.

There were many instances of good fencing and a few others that could be criticized. Fortunately good sportsmanship prevailed and at the end the competitive hostilities disappeared and the congratulations bestowed on the champion were sincere.

Several observations emerge quite clearly. First, the competitive phases of fencing have overwhelmed its chivalric and traditional aspects. This is a loss. The leaders of the sport, the maitres d'armes and the top flight competitors should take the initiative in re-emphasizing the importance of the classic amenities and formal conventions, without loss of combative elements. Salutes, handshakes, and courtesies on the strip should be more than perfunctory. As young men are developed, they should be indoctrinated with the history and symbolism of fencing — let the virus that bites us give them a case of courtesy as part of the fever of fencing. Second, with the "long game" prevalent in foil on the attack, the retreat, as Prof. Hugo Castello has so well pointed out, has become an essential part of the parry. May I also suggest three other effects. There is the added difficulty in making a riposte in swift retreat if the latter is partly or wholly replacing a parry. There is the added value in a reprise or continuation of an attack which has failed only because defender retreated. I noticed many instances where it seemed the defender had been left in a vulnerable position (physically or psychologically) by his retreat so that the attacker by an immediate continuation would have had a clear advantage. The third effect is a tendency to lose balance after an over-extended lunge, thus laying the attacker open to a riposte or an attack.

Another conclusion from these Nationals is the necessity of condition. I am sure we will face many superbly conditioned athletes in Tokyo's fencing arena. Fencing competition is now a test of stamina as well as of fencing techniques. Stamina cannot be acquired without thorough and painstaking physical conditioning which I hope will be an important part of the Olympic Team's training this summer.

The last generality to be drawn from the Nationals is the relationship between the AFLA and the colleges. We must encourage and strengthen our ties with such organizations as the IFA, NCAA and IWFA. Of the 285 entries only 35, or about 12% came from colleges and only two collegians (Pesthy and Abby) were among the 24 finalists. A closer association between the colleges and clubs could stimulate greater interest and development of college fencers. Col. Hull, the AAU Executive Director, has announced a vastly expanded Junior Olympic program for 1965. The AFLA should be alert to secure a proper place for fencing in the program.
